

History Commentary 2

Our brief history simplifies the task of understanding.

By John McClelland Jr.

Panoramas of Promise 3

Bird's-eye view maps provide a unique window on the history of Washington's communities.

By Larry Schoonover

Whitman Mission Revisited 10

At long last, Paul Kane's 1847 drawings of the mission make their Washington debut.

By David Herrera

Our Brothers' Keepers 12

From first settlement to the dawn of the New Deal, human services in Washington struggled to meet people's needs.

By Russell Hollander

Visions of WSHS 21

A forward look at the Society's grand new plans, and a backward one at their predecessors.

Centennial Historical Facts 26

Some slices of life during springtime in Washington—100 years ago.

Edited by Redmond J. Barnett

Torches to Guide Us 28

Florence Merriam's never-before-published account of her visit to Neah Bay a century ago.

Edited by Harriet Kofalk

When History Was News 38

Pioneer Elwood Evans—still indignant on Admission Day—decried the obstacles to statehood.

Washington's Admission and Its Historians 40

Our historians were ho-hum about statehood, but things have changed.

By John S. Whitehead

Columbia Reviews 46

History Album 48

Logging takes to the air.