

From the Editor 2

History Commentary 3

The Oregon Trail myth debunked.

By Robert E. Ficken

The Other Washington 6

Where tradition takes precedence over novel nomenclature.

By Terrence Cole

Fortress without Guns 9

Turn-of-the-century Fort Ward on Bainbridge Island played a short-lived role in the army's plans for coastal defense.

By David M. Hansen

Round with World with Citizen Train 16

Tacoma reaps international publicity on George Train's coattails.

By Frank L. Green

Walla Walla Sweets 18

Onions and ethnic rivalry in an eastern Washington Italian community.

By Jens Lund

The Pacific Northwest Architecture of Carl F. Gould 24

A designer leaves his mark on the Seattle area.

By T. William Booth and William H. Wilson

From the Collection 31

Share the ride in your "V" car.

Officers' Row 32

Vancouver Barracks' historic neighborhood is being restored to its former glory.

By James Wagner and Jessica Walden

Katalla 38

An Alaska boomtown gone bust.

By Elizabeth A. Tower

Correspondence/Additional Reading 43

Columbia Reviews 46