

From the Editor 2

History Commentary 3

Pioneers of commerce in the Pacific Northwest.

More Power to You 4

The national politics and federal policies that refashioned the Columbia River in the 1930s.

By Richard Lowitt

History Album 11

The Chutes of Two Rivers.

Klee Wyk 12

During the 1950s and early 1960s this design studio and gallery on the Nisqually flats focused on Northwest Coast Indian art.

By Maria Pascualy

O, Christmas Tree! 16

The rise and decline of the Christmas tree industry in Washington.

By Dennis Tompkins

From the Collection 23

In consideration of $40.00 . . . Bismark.

Kathleen Eloisa Rockwell 24

From dance-hall damsel to self-made icon of the Klondike gold rush era.

By James Bledsoe

The Wreck of the Varsity 32

The Gig Harbor sardine seiner that never made it home.

By Lee Makovich

Citizen Train and the “City of Destiny” 36

The Great Crank booms Tacoma with “psychic verse” and a trip around the world.

By Kurt E. Armbruster

Columbia Reviews 44

Recent books of interest in Northwest history.

Edited by Robert C. Carriker

Correspondence/Additional Reading 48