

From the Editor 2

History Commentary 3

Our state capitol: tales and dreams.

By Leavitt S. White

The King County Poor Farm 8

The evolving mission of this public-funded entity planted the seeds of two regional medical centers.

By Terri Mitchell

The Artistic Views of Gustavus Sohon 16

This series of images provides graphic details of Colonel George Wright's "savage campaign" of 1858.

By Paul D. McDermott and Ronald E. Grim

From the Collection 23

The Monorail—inspiration for the future or a relic of Seattle's past?

Indian Trade Blankets in the Pacific Northwest 24

From a humble and utilitarian beginning as a trade good and article of clothing to a prized status symbol and valuable collector's item.

By W. R. Swagerty

History Album 29

Ezra Meeker's best friend.

"Irish Pat" McMurtry 32

The world heavyweight champion who might have been.

By Peter Bacho

Following in Their Footsteps 37

The birth and infancy of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail, 24 years old in November 2002.

By Wallace G. Lewis

Correspondence/Additional Reading 43

Columbia Reviews 44