

From the Editor 2

History Commentary 3

Opposite ends of the pole: two geographic histories of Washington's trees.

By Jana Dean

Shaken but Still Standing 6

Washington's Legislative Building has weathered three major earthquakes.

By Heather Lockman

Atoms for Peace 11

How WSU's Nuclear Radiation Center came into being and why it still exists.

By Darlene A. Croteau

1001 Curious Things 17

For over a century, Ye Old Curiosity Shop has offered visitors a glimpse of things rare, weird, and wonderful.

By Kate Duncan

Hunting for Empire 24

As hunters and "men of science," Lewis and Clark laid claim to America.

By Daniel Herman

History Album 31

Car camping—the great escape.

Boeing's Flying Boat 32

Tracing the fate of the B314, Pan Am's largest and last Clipper.

By Kenneth L. Calkins

From the Collection 37

Home on the range.

The Kennedy Train 38

The trials and tribulations of leading a wagon train over the Oregon Trail.

By Everell Cummins

Columbia Reviews 44

Correspondence & Additional Reading 46

To Our Members 47