

From the Editor 2

History Commentary 3

Nettie Craig Asberry, a pillar of Tacoma's African American community.

By Antoinette Broussard

Tracking "The Explorer" 7

Rudyard Kipling's adventure poem sparked many a Pacific Northwest "explorer."

By Robert R. Hunt

Mother Joseph 15

A formidable force for good in Washington's territorial days.

By Mary L. Stough

From the Collection 17

One big union.

Adventures in Ichthyology 18

Lewis and Clark made it a challenge for future fish experts to identify all the varieties of fish encountered during the expedition.

By Dennis D. Dauble

Native American in the Land of the Shogun 24

Ranald MacDonald—son of a Chinook princess and a Hudson's Bay Company official—yearned to visit Japan.

By Frederik L. Schodt

History Album 33

An early Pathé newsreel featured Yakima's Blossom Festival in 1912.

A Lady in the Senate 34

Reba Hurn became the first woman elected to the Washington State Senate.

By Laura Arksey

Retrospective Reviews 42

The novels of Mary Brinker Post.

By Peter Donahue

Additional Reading 43

Columbia Reviews 44