

Oregon Territory's Struggle for Sovereignty 2

Settlers in the Far West sought to strike a balance between self-governance and dependence on a growing transcontinental empire.

By Kathryn Eigen

A Spirit Unbound 7

Physical limitations did not prevent Washington artist Peggy Strong from pursuing her chosen career.

By David F. Martin

Black Harris 13

An exceptional Northwest trapper and guide whose early life and ethnicity remain a mystery.

By R. Gregory Nokes

From the Collection 21

High tea.

"True to Truman" "Booth Who?" "Dump Reagan" 22

Political buttons are a fascinating element of the material culture related to state and national politics.

By John Hughes

Columbia Reviews 26

Retrospective Reviews 28

The fiction and folklore of James Stevens.

By Peter Donahue

Notices & Additional Reading 29

History Album 32